What our people are telling us

What employees value, what they want improved first, and what we recommend.

What we analysed

One survey, read four ways: scores, links to staying, the HR choice question and open comments.

327
responses

30
rated questions

1,892
written comments

23 / 5
locations / languages

Positive = 4 or 5

Usually or Almost always. “Sometimes” is not counted as positive.

Four sources of evidence

Scores, link to staying and recommending, the HR choice question, open comments.

Limits

No headcount, so no response rate. Links are associations, not causes.

> Largest groups: Mumbai 40% of answers; 38% have under 3 years’ service.

Strengths to protect: pride and team support

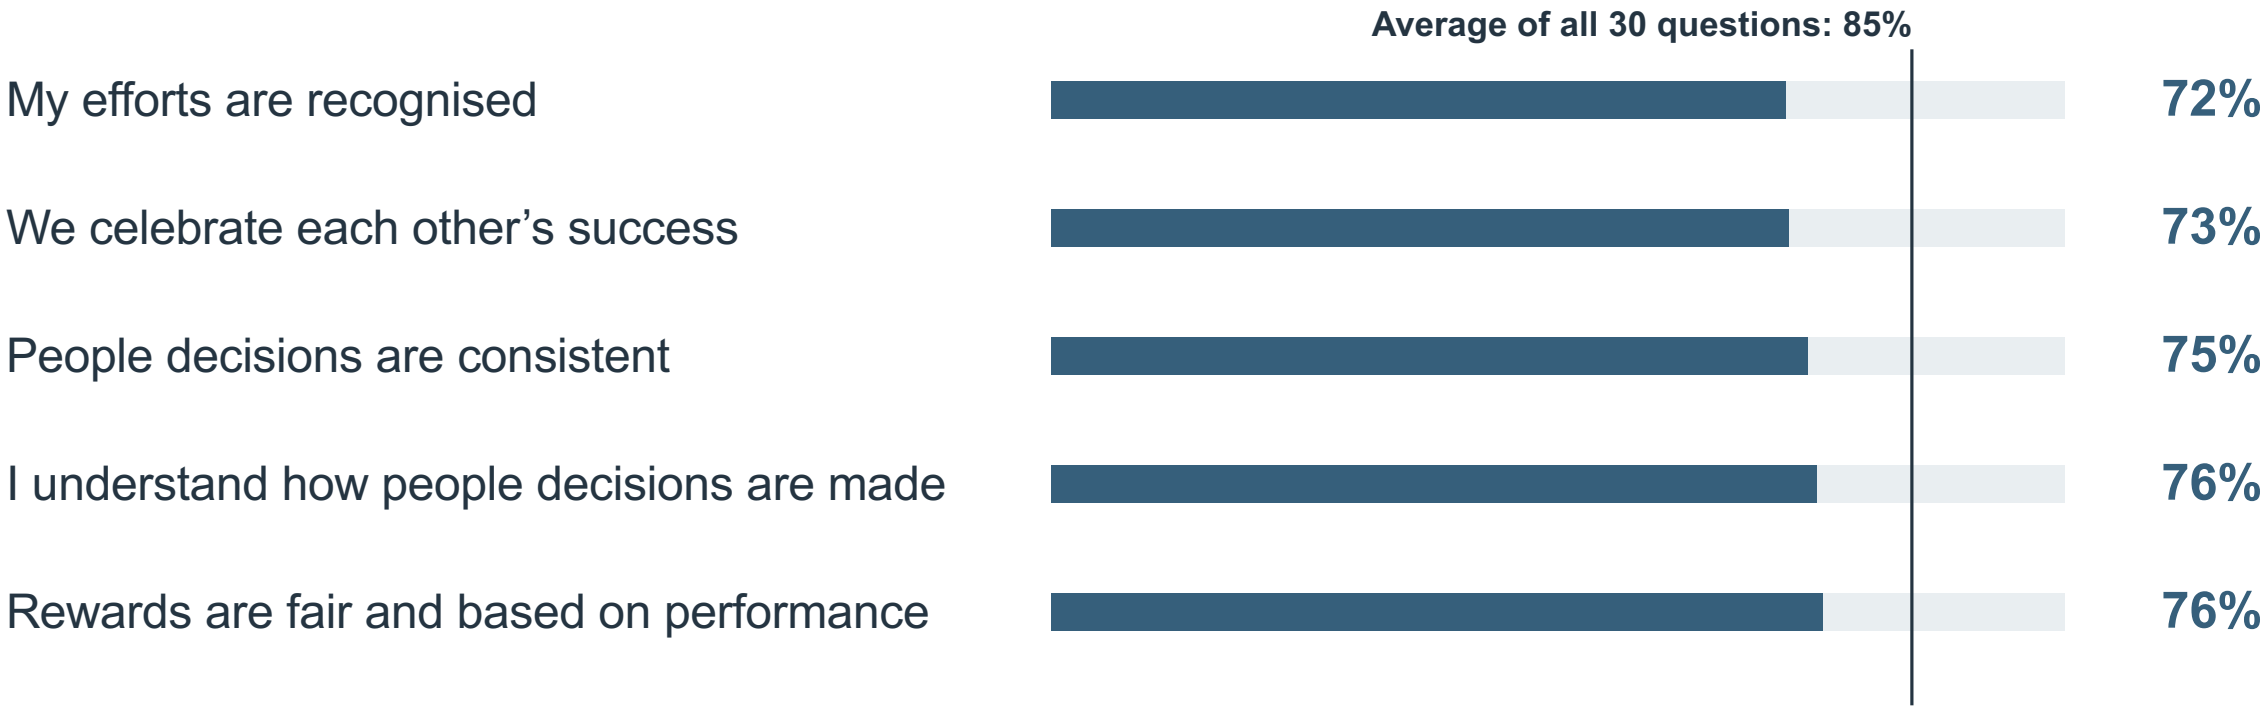

Share of people answering Usually or Almost always.

119 people named their team or colleagues as the thing they would never want to lose.

The five lowest scores are all about people decisions

Share of people answering Usually or Almost always.

Recognition, consistency, understanding decisions and fair rewards: how people decisions are made and explained.

Anonymous answers are clearly less positive

The survey asked for an optional name; 69% gave it.

PLAN TO STAY FOR THE NEXT 3–5 YEARS

92%
Named (227)

78%
Anonymous (100)

Anonymous answers are lower on every key question.

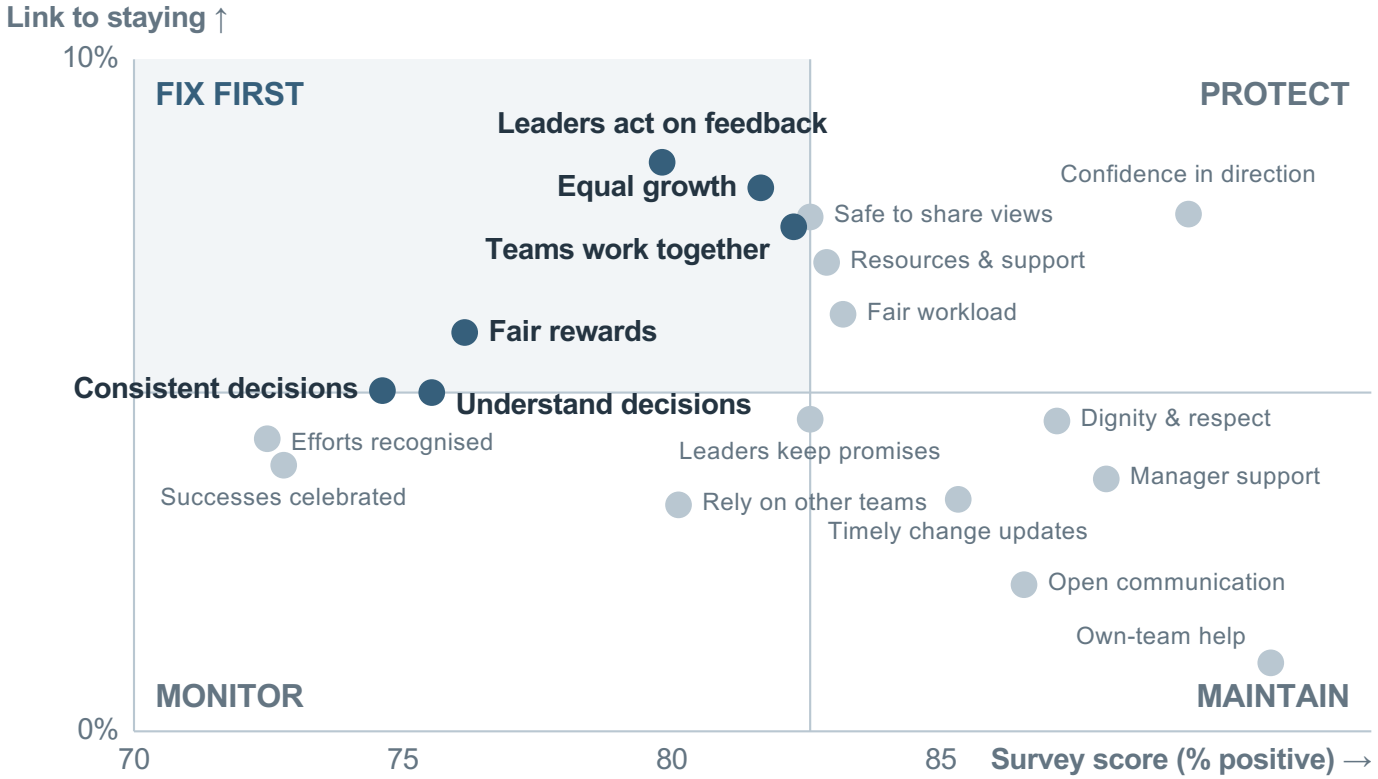

Headline scores are probably a little optimistic.

Recognition matters more among anonymous respondents.

> Recommendation: run the next survey without names.

What links most to staying and recommending

Each dot is one question: its survey score against its link to recommending, satisfaction and staying (explains 65%).

SHARE OF THE LINK, BY BLOCK

Fairness	31%
Respect	27%
Credibility	24%
Teamwork	18%

Fairness carries the largest share of the link to staying and recommending.

Lines are the medians (82.6% positive, 5.0% link). Associations, not causes; read as tiers, as the ranges overlap.

In their own words, concerns form three groups

Topics written about in the same answer. 1,230 coded suggestions from 305 people; lines = at least 10 shared mentions.

Priority 1

Fairness, recognition, career, workload, pay

Priority 2

Communication, being heard, support, trust

Targeted fix

Cross-team work, roles and processes

Some links follow the question wording, so the map organises what people said rather than proving it.

Two themes pass all four evidence checks

Each theme graded on the four sources. Filled = strong, light = medium, empty = weak, dash = not asked.

THEME	LOW SCORE	LINKED TO STAY	HR WISH LIST	OWN WORDS	OUR DECISION
Fair decisions & career growth	●	●	●	●	Priority 1
Leaders listen and act	●	●	●	●	Priority 2
Recognition	●	○	◔	●	Part of Priority 1
Teamwork across teams	◔	●	—	○	Targeted fix
Pay, benefits & facilities	—	—	●	◔	Yearly review

Pass marks were set before looking at the results. Only the first two themes are strong on all four.

Priority 1: fair decisions that people understand

Promotions, pay rises, rewards and recognition.

75% say people decisions are made consistently, one of the lowest scores

No. 1 Of the areas leaders can change, fairness is most linked to wanting to stay

51 people said HR's main job should be helping careers grow

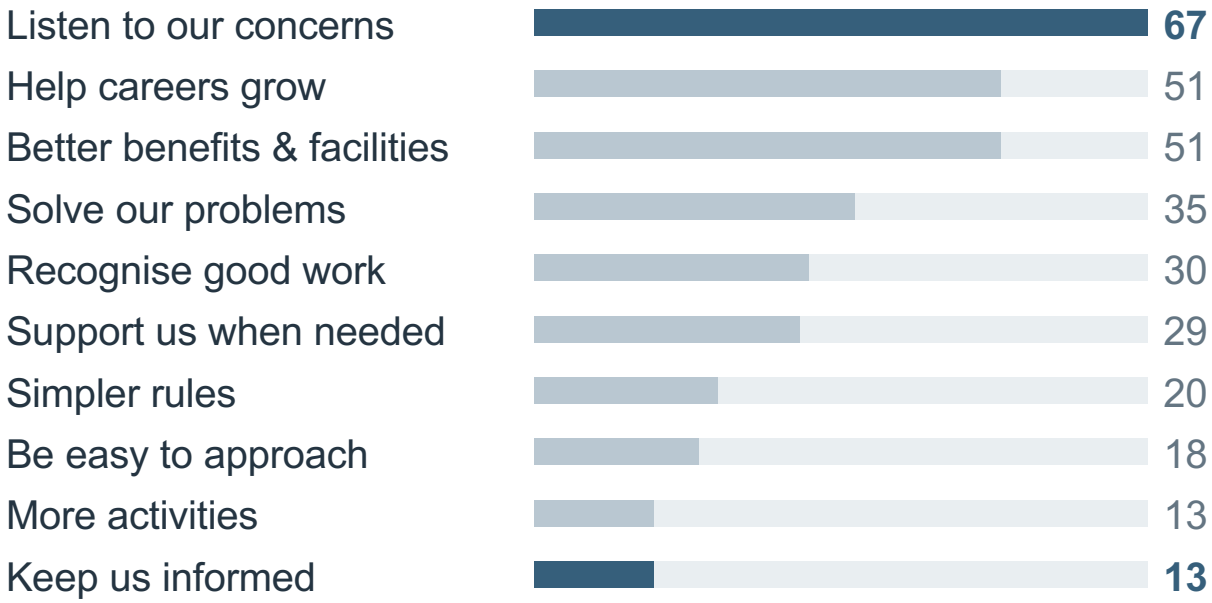

> "Inconsistent performance evaluations and opaque promotion criteria."

An employee, answering the fairness question

In practice: clear rules for promotion, pay and rewards, and a reason for every decision.

Priority 2: leaders who listen, and then act

"If HR could do one thing better…": everyone picked one answer.

80%

say leaders act on feedback

> "Employees' problems and suggestions should be heard and appropriate action taken promptly."

> In practice: every concern gets an owner, a date and an answer.

Where to start: Customer Service

% positive by group. Darker = lower. Groups with at least 10 people.

	FAIR DECISIONS	LEADERS ACT	RECOGNITION	PLAN TO STAY
Everyone (327)	75%	80%	72%	87%
Customer Service (51)	64%	69%	57%	76%
Sales (54)	75%	74%	72%	87%
Documentation (59)	77%	85%	81%	92%
Finance & Accounts (38)	85%	82%	84%	92%
Operations (36)	88%	89%	86%	92%
3–5 years' service (53)	68%	75%	66%	79%

Women answer less positively than men on fair decisions and recognition (9–13 points lower).

A smaller fix: handovers between teams

People help their own team. Work between teams is harder.

My own team helps each other

91%

Teams across the company work well together

82%

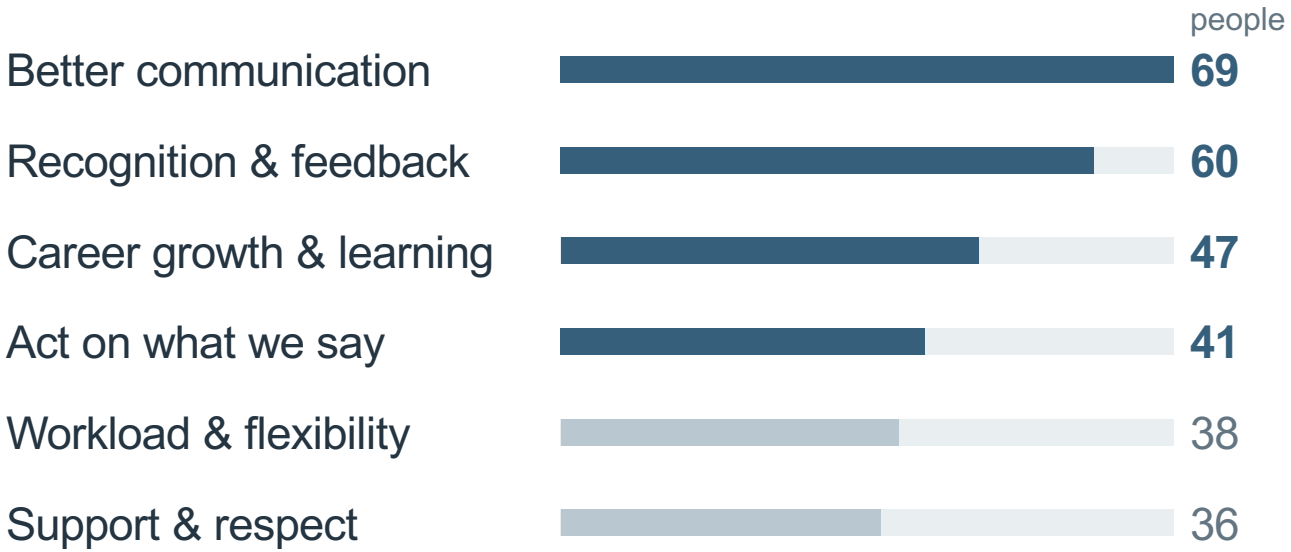

45

people rate their own team well but work with other teams poorly

The fix: one Customer Service handover. Who sends what, who receives it, who covers.

What else people told us

“If you could make one change…”: the question that did not suggest any topic.

ALSO HEARD

Pay, benefits & facilities

51 people picked this as HR’s main job.

Send it to the yearly pay and facilities review, and tell people that is where it went.

A 90-day pilot cannot fix pay. Being open about where it goes still builds trust.

Our plan: one 90-day pilot, three parts

Starting in Customer Service. Using the tools and processes we already have.

1 / Fair decisions

OWNER

HR head

- Publish clear rules for promotion, pay and rewards.
- Give a reason for every decision.
- Managers recognise each person monthly.

2 / Listen and act

OWNER

Leadership sponsor + HR

- Log every concern with an owner and a date.
- Monthly “you said, we did” update.
- Listening sessions, Customer Service first.

3 / Handovers

OWNER

Operations head

- Map one Customer Service handover.
- Agree who sends, receives and covers.
- Flag anything overdue.

No new system is needed. Owners are our proposal and need leadership approval.

90 days, step by step

Day 0 is the day leadership approves the pilot.

DAYS 0–14

Get ready

Pick pilot teams. Check current rules. Short anonymous survey.

DAYS 15–30

Set up

Publish rules. Name owners. Open the concern log.

DAYS 31–60

Run it

Monthly recognition and updates. Weekly problem review.

DAYS 61–90

Decide

Repeat the short survey. Grow it, change it or stop it.

At each step, leadership decides whether to continue.

How we will know it worked

Check that we did the work, and that employees noticed.

PART	WE CHECK THAT…	EMPLOYEES SHOULD SAY… (SURVEY → GOAL)
Fair decisions	Rules are published for every pilot role, with a reason for each decision.	“Decisions are consistent”: 75% → about 80%
Listen and act	Every concern is answered within 2 working days and has an owner.	“Leaders act on feedback”: 80% → about 85%
Handovers	At least 95% of handovers are complete by Day 60.	“Teams work well together”: 82% → higher
Protect strengths	No extra paperwork beyond the agreed logs.	Pride 92% and own-team help 91% do not drop

Measured with a short anonymous survey. Goals are suggestions to confirm in the first 14 days.

What we ask you to decide today

Three decisions to get started.

01

Approve one 90-day pilot

Fair decisions, listen and act, and one handover, starting in Customer Service.

02

Name the owners

HR head, a leadership sponsor and the Operations head, with one review a month.

03

Run the next survey without names

A short anonymous survey now, and again at Day 90.

Thank you. Questions?

Before questions, three honest limits.

WHAT WE CAN AND CANNOT SAY

- The links we show are not proof of cause and effect.
- We do not know the total headcount, so we cannot give a response rate.
- Comments were read with AI help and checked once, not by an independent team.

> Happy to take questions. We can show any result by department or tenure.
